Pure Energy of Nature

If you treat a visit to Caiarossa like a tour of a conventional estate and taste its wines as you would any other Tuscan wine, you will miss out on seeing what makes it unique! To explore Caiarossa, you have to start by opening your eyes wide to take in the vastness, colours and landscapes, then close them to let the natural energies of the area and the charm of its wines wash over you.

Because first and foremost, Caiarossa is a breathtaking vineyard! Dizzying, taming adversity, boasting such diversity that it takes no fewer than ten grape varieties to truly showcase the incredible range of soils and terroirs across the vineyard's 67 plots.

A demanding terroir cultivated in harmony with nature to achieve a perfect understanding!

Dotted with breathtaking panoramic views of the valley and the sea, this vineyard offers an adventure, a stimulating stroll.

Caiarossa has an omnipresent energy. It is the energy of nature: of the land, the wind, the soils, which seek no more than to express themselves, free and unimpeded.

A positive impetus that offered inspiration right from the outset, in the clear choice to use biodynamics as not just a method but also a philosophy, then in the construction of the vertical winery with natural cooling, not forgetting the 'feng shui' precepts that guided the buildings' orientation.

And all of this is expressed in and shines through the character of every single Caiarossa wine.

Created from nothing, drawing on twenty years of work to reveal the complexity of a terroir as expressive as it is capricious, Caiarossa is a young estate that has patiently come into being.

Its wine, beautifully tuned and wonderfully precise, expresses the full personality of this truly unique estate.

Offering intensity, colour, simplicity, even magic...

Caiarossa impresses with its natural strength, its clarity, and its aura, far removed from artificial luxuries.

This Riparbella Tuscan is the perfect expression of the Costa Toscana...

Caiarossa is the pure energy of nature !

The Philosophy of CAIAROSSA

Named after the red color of its land, Caiarossa was born different, guided by the principles of biodynamic agriculture.

Totally created from scratch in 1998, it is characterized by a unique diversity of soils.

In 2004, Eric Albada Jelgersma decided to find an estate in that special part of Italy that is the Tuscan coast, to express the expertise he had acquired in Bordeaux, at Château Giscours.

He fell in love with this beautiful small estate applying the principles of biodynamic agriculture, located at the heart of the Mediterranean macchia shrubland, on the western slope of a hill overlooking the sea.

Today, his children Dennis, Derk and Valérie are following in their father's footsteps and keep pursuing its quest for precision in the elaboration of fine wines.

The Biodynamic Agriculture

Caiarossa follows the principles of Biodynamic agriculture since its beginning.

This philosophy requires full dedication to create a harmony between Nature and Human Being. One of the main objectives is increasing the vitality and resilience of the soil thanks to cover crops, biodynamic preparations and elaboration of our own compost.

At Caiarossa, we try to protect our ecosystem and live in connection with the rhythm of nature.

The Vineyards

Caiarossa has a unique diversity of soils, altitudes, and varieties. The estate is divided into 3 vineyards. The oldest one is Podere Serra All'Olio, surrounding the winery. It was planted in 1998 at 225 meters on clay and limestone. Next to the windy valley of Cecina, Podere Le Lame is at 163 meters. Our highest vineyard is Nocolino at 350 meters, with a direct exposure to the sea wind, cooler temperature, and rare marly and volcanic soil. In total, these 47 parcels of 10 different varieties compose this unique patchwork of terroirs.

The Cellar

While Biodynamic reigns over the vineyards, the inspiration for the cellar comes from the geo-biological architecture and oriental philosophy of Feng Shui, defining shapes, colours, lights, materials, and orientation of the winery.

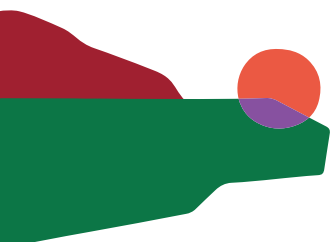

Thanks to the land's natural slope, the facility has been developed on four levels to take advantage of gravity and avoid any mechanical damage to the berries. The selected colours on the walls complete the frame.

The yellow boosts brightness and represents the sun and the energy, the red on the outer walls symbolizes the soil of the vineyard surrounding the winery.

Wine portfolio

Caiarossa

The soul of the winery. An original blend out of our seven different red varieties. It reflects our Italian identity and the diversity of our unique terroir. Standing out from traditional Tuscan wines, Caiarossa is the perfect expression of the Costa Toscana complexity and freshness.

Aria di Caiarossa

Thanks to its velvety texture, aromas and energy, it mirrors the volcanic soils of our highest vineyard, located in Nocolino.

Pergolaia

From our Sangiovese parcels facing the sea, we produce Pergolaia, a blend that expresses itself with a fruity bouquet, soft elegance and savoury freshness.

Essenzia di Caiarossa

Essenzia aims to express outstanding varietals grown in our estate. Produced only in the finest vintages and only in magnums.

Caiarossa Bianco

This elegant and balanced wine is an expression of both varietal Viognier and Chardonnay cultivated on the limestone soil of the estate.

Oro di Caiarossa

The grapes of this pure Petit Manseng are late-harvested from a tiny parcel. The wine opens in the glass to reveal seductive aromas of candied fruits. On the palate, you will experience its balance between power and a unique freshness.

Grappa di Caiarossa

The intense bouquet and amber colour reflect the long ageing in wood. It is produced by distilling the grape pomace of our Caiarossa 2008.
