TASTING NOTES

"Opaque purple. Heady black and blue fruit, sandalwood, vanilla and floral qualities on the intensely perfumed nose. Alluringly sweet and expansive on the palate, offering complex, spice-accented black currant, boysenberry, mocha and allspice flavors that show superb concentration but come off surprisingly lithe. Plush, seamless and seductive in style, finishing spicy and extremely long, with velvety tannins building slowly and adding subtle grip."

VINEYARDS

Bodegas Morca is located in the village of Borja, in the province of Zaragoza. Grapes of Garnacha from small plots with low yields are hand-picked and fermented separately in small vats, then transferred into French oak barrels to complete the malolactic fermentation process. The wine spends 22 months of maturing and then
