About

Wine production at Château Camparnaud dates back to 1879. But it was in 2000 that the estate came into the possession of Dutch wine expert Marnix Engels who, in collaboration with the noble Chevron Villette family, managed to turn the property into a world-class domaine.

The AOP Côtes de Provence wines are ecologically produced; with respect for human and nature. Terra Vitis is a national federation of farmers, wine traders and experts governed by strict controls of production methods and techniques. Together we strive for pure products of supreme quality, while securing our environment for future generations.
