

Rusty Roof

Barossa Valley • Riesling • 2020

When it came to finding our new winery site in the Barossa, we were spoilt for choice. We started out in McLaren Vale, all those years ago, but we knew we wanted our new home to be in the Barossa.

So how did we pick Angaston Road?

Well, it called to us, it had a certain charm, it was the old shed with a rusty roof and auburn tiles: a true RedHead! The site also has a great vineyard, plenty of space for our new winery – an ancient listed cottage – we knew we had to have it. The old “rusty roof” shed is on its last legs but it’s ours and we love it.

Name & Vintage	Rusty Roof Riesling 2020
Grape variety	100% Riesling
Region	Barossa Valley
The Wine	The 'Rusty Roof' range is for our small parcels of fruit that we sniff out that show great potential then lead to absolute gems in the winery, but we may not have the luck to land them again.
The Growers	The Possum Creek Vineyards of today were planted by Murray and Lorraine Heidenreich in 1978. Those vines are no more, but the ownership of the property has remained in the family down the generations.
Tasting notes	Lifted nose of lychees, honey dew melon and citrus. Bright lemon lime sorbet on the palate.
